Geraldine Jackson (g.jackson@senior-support.com)
Director, Senior Support

Senior Support needs you!

Do you ever have free time after school or at weekends? Then why not do something for the senior citizens in your town who need help?

What does Senior Support do?

We visit people aged over 70 who live alone. We introduce them to a volunteer who visits regularly and helps with everyday jobs, like cleaning or cooking.

Sometimes, the only thing old people need is someone to talk to, because loneliness is a big problem. And they particularly enjoy talking to young people!

So, if you are over 14 years old and would like to volunteer, first of all tell your parents. They have to give their permission for you to join us. Then email me and say when you can be free.

We know that Senior Support helps ..... .

- teenagers
- old people ✓
- people of all ages
- young children

An extract from a novel

Inside the palace, everyone watched as General Vaxal walked slowly to where Princess Zena was sitting. With the general was a small man dressed in silver with a silver helmet. It was impossible to see the man's face.

"But where is my brother, the King?" asked Zena. Before Vaxal could speak, the answer was in his eyes, and Zena understood. Tears filled her eyes.

"I'm so sorry," said Vaxal, "he fought bravely and we won the battle - but the King died. We… destroyed thousands of them, and took hundreds of prisoners. This is one of them. The others have all left our planet. But they'll be back."

"But where did they come from? Perhaps this man will tell us."

"I don't think so, your Highness."

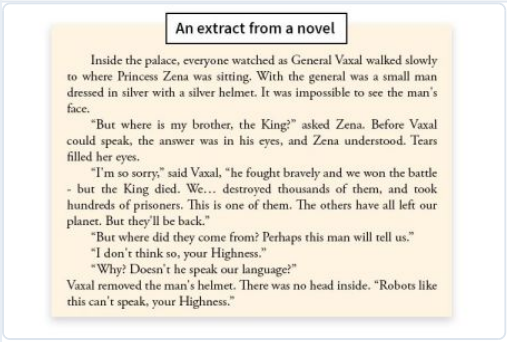

"Why? Doesn't he speak our language?"

Vaxal removed the man's helmet. There was no head inside. "Robots like this can't speak, your Highness."

When the general arrives, Princess Zena is ..... .
