For an unforgettable experience, visit the prison on Alcatraz Island. Alcatraz Prison was open from 1934 to 1963 and some of America's worst criminals were held here. Situated in the San Francisco Bay, the island is only two kilometres from land. Even so, no prisoner ever successfully escaped by swimming to the city!

Alcatraz Prison has been a museum for 50 years. You can visit the inside of the prison and see the cells in which the prisoners lived. Guides will tell you about the lives of the prisoners, and some of their escape attempts.

Alcatraz Island is very popular with tourists. It's recommended that you book tickets in advance. Your ticket price includes the 15-minute boat trip.

Please note:

- The weather can change quickly on the island, becoming cold and foggy; take a coat even on sunny days.
- No food or drink is allowed on the island, only water.
- You can take photos on the island but not in the prison.
